TM Master Procurement module has built in a flexible function for approval matrix allowing for senior personnel to approve requisitions and orders on monetary order values according to inhouse chain of command.

However not all senior personnel are regular TM Master users and many regular users also travel extensively as part of their work. Approval app for TM Master allows these individuals to approve requisitions and orders according to their place in the approval matrix through a handheld device or a web browser.

The approval app is accessed through our web portal www.approval.teromarine.com. From there you can log on with your username and password to access the page for approvals awaiting your actions.

Once logged in, you will be able to see orders based on vessel / unit, and go into line items. From here you can proceed to approve the order, and this will move it to the next approval level or to complete the order.
